Dennis and Melissa –

Just a FYI since this was an odor complaint. The attached NRC Report came in last night regarding a licorice odor in a storm drain in St. Albans, Kanawha County, WV. The WVDEP Spill Line had received the NRC Report as well as other notifications through their own Spill Line. They had discussed the situation with WVDEP and although they don't believe it to be anything – they were having the local volunteer Fire Department check things out. They did not believe it was associated with the Freedom Industries chemical spill
